Virginia Outdoors Foundation 2010-2013 Strategic Plan

Introduction

Mission

The mission of the Virginia Outdoors Foundation is to promote the preservation of open-space lands and encourage private gifts of money, securities, land or other property to preserve the natural, scenic, historic, open-space and recreational areas of the Commonwealth.

Strategic Planning Context

The Virginia Outdoors Foundation played the leading role in achieving Governor Kaine's 400,000 acre goal for land conservation, placing over 70% of the 400,000 acres under easement over the last four years. The foundation is committed to protecting as much valuable open space land as possible across the Commonwealth, but the recent dramatic growth in conservation activity throughout the state has pushed VOF's capacity to the limit. Over the next four years, it will be critical for VOF to maximize management efficiency and secure additional revenue to maintain its lead role in conserving new land and carry out its stewardship responsibilities.

Stewardship responsibilities are multiplying, as a result of the success of the easement acquisition program and the transfer of land already under easement to new owners. Current staff levels are inadequate to meet this growing need, especially in light of the strong ongoing interest from new landowners in placing their land under conservation easement. It is essential that VOF keep pace with long-term responsibilities for stewardship of the land placed in its trust at a time when these activities are receiving considerable national scrutiny.

Land conservation in Virginia is a partnership effort and VOF is committed to strengthening its working relationships with other state land conservation agencies, local governments and private land trusts. Collaboration among partners must be strengthened to achieve local, state and regional land conservation goals with the finite resources available.

Long-term vision

As part of the strategic planning process, the VOF Board developed the following long-term vision for the organization to guide current and future planning.

- VOF will be a model statewide program that is a national leader in land conservation.
- VOF will function primarily as a state agency, but it will retain the flexibility and agility provided by its public/private status.
- VOF will be strategic, using its conservation easements to complement publicly protected land and maximize public benefits on privately owned land.
- VOF will work with individual landowners to protect open space, valuable habitats and watersheds, and to provide public access and outdoor recreation opportunities where possible, while keeping working land in productive use.
- VOF will operate a model stewardship program that protects conservation values and includes monitoring, outreach and education for landowners/donors.

- Conservation easements and their management will continue to be the central focus for VOF, but limited land acquisition and other activities will play roles as well in carrying out the mission.
- VOF will have sustainable funding sources to support its work that will include additional state revenues and a mix of private support and earned income.
- VOF will work with a network of strong partners to help carry out its mission and will work to enhance the capacity of all of its public and private partners.

Four-Year Priorities

The plan includes the following strategic priorities:

- Secure financial sustainability for VOF.
- Work with landowners to maximize land protection, emphasizing lands with the greatest public value and benefits as determined by VOF and its partners.
- Provide quality stewardship of all lands placed under easement and owned by VOF.
- Raise public awareness of the importance of protecting valuable lands for future generations and VOF's role in accomplishing this.
- Strengthen all aspects of organizational functioning to increase efficiency and employee satisfaction.

The plan is organized into five sections:

- Land Conservation
- Land Stewardship
- Outreach and Communications
- Financial Sustainability
- Organizational Development

It contains goals, priorities and activities in each of these five areas and assigns responsibility and, where appropriate, benchmarks for implementing the plan. All sections of the plan are important and inter-related, but high priority must be given to achieving financial sustainability because this is critical to the long-term success and integrity of the organization in all aspects of its work.
